SUCCESSFUL MARKET-LEADING FEED SOLUTIONS

Our wide range of products for dairy cattle, young cattle and beef cattle includes feed concepts that are intended for cattle-specific stages of life or for reaching specific goals.

A HEALTHY START FOR COWS

Rearing young dairy animals is an important job on the farm: do that properly right from the start, and you will lay the foundation for good future results. This means that every growth phase of the calf should be monitored closely. To establish an optimum and healthy growth rate, the calves should be given the right kind of care and nutrition. Optimum production during lactation can only be assured if a calf reaches adulthood in optimum condition! Our feed solutions for young dairy cattle (from milk replacers to an unique rearing concept) leads to a heifer that is physically able to handle calving at two years and can achieve a high lifetime production.

BENEFITS
- Healthy start
- Sustainable dairy cows
- Higher lifetime production
- Lower rearing costs

THE DRY PERIOD IN DAIRY CATTLE

The dry period is a crucial phase in the lifecycle of a dairy cow. The cow has to be in the best possible condition before giving birth to its calf and starting a new period of milk production. This means that its immunity has to be boosted and its energy balance has to be in order. Optimum production during the lactation phase can only be assured if a cow comes through the dry period in optimum condition! The feed solutions we offer are the best answer to the most critical period around calving. They guarantee fit cows in peak condition when they start lactating.

BENEFITS
- Cows return to optimum condition more quickly
- Better-performing cows during the lactation phase
- Fewer immunity problems
- Healthier calves
